THE LIVE STOCK MARKETS

CATTLE WEAKER, HEAVY STEERS SELLING TEN CENTS LOWER.

Hogs in Moderate Demand and Steady to Lower-Sheep Strong-Condition of Markets Elsewhere.

UNION STOCKYARDS, INDIANAPOLIS. April 1 .- Cattle-Receipts, 1,100; shipments, 300. The receipts to-day were about 200 larger than a week ago and 100 larger than a year ago. Practically all kinds were represented, and the quality was as satisfactory as the average heretofore this week. The market opened with rather a slow terday. The market for butcher steers was probwas reported. The demand for stockers and siderable change in prices. There was a very satisfactory market for the good cow stuff, and practically all dealers claimed that prices were at least steady. Heifers, however, while apparently nearly as high as they have been, did not sell as readily, and, occasionally at least, buyers got a little better stock than sold yesterday at the same price. There seemed to be rather an easier undertone to the general market, and evidently the supplies are becoming nearer week ago, but a little larger than a year ago. The quality was not a great deal better than the average recently, but there were probably more heavy hogs here to-day than yesterday. The market opened with all buyers in the field, and, with a very fair shipping demand for good heavy grades, that class sold at the start at about steady prices compared with yesterday. It was soon discovered, however, that packers were bearish and the demand from other sources slackened. After the first few sales were made the bidding in most cases was lower, and salesmen had considerable difficulty in getting steady prices for any, while frequently they were forced to accept less than yesterday for the light and light mixed hogs. Packers especially were very bearish and quick to accept any opportunity to reduce prices. Therefore, the market was left entirely in their hands, and it is almost certain there will be a further reduction in values. At current prices a very good clearance was made current prices a very good clearance was made to-day, but the market closed weak. Sales ranged from $7 to $7.55, and the bulk of the supply sold at $7.25@7.50. Quotations:

ceipts to-day, although against quite small, were celpts to-day, although against quite small, were larger than a week ago and a year ago. A few of nearly all kinds were represented, but the quality was not extraordinary. There was a very fair demand from local butchers, but the supply was hardly large enough to invite competition from outside sources. The trading was reasonably active, and steady to strong prices were realized, although there were no sales at higher figures than those current recently. In justice to the market it might be said that the class of stock coming here at present is not the class of stock coming here at present is not the right sort to test the full strength of the trade, and on account of the limited supplies competition, of course, is not strong. Spring lambs averaging 47 lbs sold as high as $12 to-day, and other lambs solds from $5.50 to $7. Culls to good sheep sold from $3 to $5, and bucks from $3.75 to $4.

A good variety of horses was represented and the quality was up to the standard of the past few weeks. There was a good attendance of buyers, rather an active degood attendance of buyers, rather an active demand for all stock that met the requirements, and the market was characterized by lively bidding and quick sales. Prices were probably not quite up to the high standard of a week ago, but the difference, if any, was slight, and sales in all cases were fully as high as two weeks ago. The trading was active until all had been sold and the market closed steady. Draft horses sold as high as $225, coach horses $250; the bulk of the medium to good chunks heavy horses and drive

Monetary Conditions Operate as a Deterrent Influence-Foreign Exchange Situation Is Slightly Better.

NEW YORK, April 1.-The stock market dropped back into an apathetic condition to-day. It moved in an extremely sluggish and halting manner throughout the day. This was a disappointment to such speculators as had hoped that yesterday's advance heralded the beginning of a continued upward movement.

The stiff call money rate yesterday and the flurry to 15 per cent. had been ignored, and the buying of stocks persisted in even while money was at the highest, but the high money rate to-day was evidently the deterrent influence on the speculation. Yesterday's buying in the face of the high money rate was based on an assumption that the corner would be turned to-day in the money difficulty and that easier conditions would begin with the disbursement of April dividends and interest money. When the call money market was seen to be quite as stiff as yesterday there was some selling of stocks by yesterday's buyers in consequence. The whole market was strictly professional and the suspicion got abroad that yesterday's advances were due more to professional manipulation and to covering by shorts than to any other

The day's developments were not impor-tant and seemed of little influence. The subtreasury statement, as expected, showed that the payment of yesterday's draft for relief purposes in the Philippines resulted in making good to the money market the previous subtreasury drain since Friday. Some further benefit to the money market is expected from the payment of government interest. There is still confidence that the movements of money in the immediate future will be to the advantage of New York in the way of release of funds accumulated for dividends and interest. A seasonable return flow of money from interior points is also expected. But there was perceptible to-day in the speculative sentiment a recurrence of the fear that heavy corporate requirements are waiting to absorb any increase in credit resources scriptions for Chicago & Northwestern's new stock. In the time money market loans to within the six months' period, the obvious purpose being to have the maturities come when the fall demand from the interior for funds begins to withdraw mon-

WHEAT A FRACTION UP

DEMAND IN THE LAST HOUR.

Corn and Oats Are Easy, and Suffer Fractional Losses-Hog Products Are Dull and Close Lower,

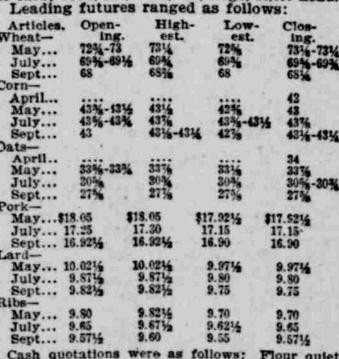

CHICAGO, April 1.-Dullness prevailed in both the grain and provision pits to-day, after a somewhat nervous session wheat closed firm with May %@1/2c higher. Corn was off %c and oats were 1/0%c higher. Provisions were easier, closing from 5c

Wheat ruled dull throughout the session and the trading was featureless, with price changes within a narrow range. The opening was firm on fears of manipulation in May, anxiety being caused by orders received here last night from the East for the sale of puts on 4,000,000 bushels, supposed to be for the account of a prominent local trader, and there was a disposition among scalpers to buy. May was unchanged to 4c higher, opening at 72% c to 73c, but after selling at 73@73%c the market changed front and under a considerable selling pressure the price receded to 72%c. The large decrease in the world's visible caused some rally later in the day, and during the last half hour of trading the demand became quite animated, which resulted in a firm close, May %@%c higher, at 73%@73%c, after touching 73%c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 335,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 359,000 bushels, compared with 719,000 bushels (two days) a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 183 cars, which with local receipts of twenty-seven cars-none of contract grade-made a total of 210 cars, against 215 last week and 327 a year ago.

The chief feature in the corn trade was changing from May to July, but there was nothing of a conspicuous character to the trading. Both options were lower, with the near-by delivery weak. The late strength in wheat caused a better feeling in the pit, but the close was easy, with May %c lower, at 43c, after selling between 42%c and 43%c. Receipts were 175 cars, none of contract

Oats were erratic, especially the May option, but trading was only moderate. May sold off early from 33%c to 33%c, the break being due to lack of support as much as to any pressure to sell. There was a rally late in the day on the strength in wheat, and the close was firm, May 1/0%c higher, at 33%c, after selling between 33%c and 33%c. Receipts were ninety-eight cars. Provisions were dull and there was little change in prices, though the tone of the market was easy. There was some selling of ribs, credited to a local packer, with English houses buying. The close was easier, with May pork 7½c lower, at $17.92½; lard 5c lower, at $9.97½, and ribs off 10c, at weather bureau, furnishes the following: "The wheat crop in Indiana was probably than at the end of the month just closed Where sown prior to Sept. 25, 1902, it suffered to some extent from flies, and such fields will show the effect of those pests. A comparatively small acreage in river and creek bottoms suffered, and in some cases was completely ruined by floods in March. But generally the plant was well protected by snow during the cold spells of the winter, came out in splendid condition, made good growth during March and now presents exceptionally fine prospects.

"Rye, where grown, fared equally as well as wheat during the winter and is in equally as good condition.

alternate freezing and thawing of the ground, but for the most part timely rains settled the earth around the roots and the effects of 'heaving' are hardly perceptible.

'The prospects for a peach crop are not good. In some localities all fruit buds are reported killed; in others the dead range from six to nine in ten, while a very few correspondents report only slight injury, or that it is yet too early to determine their condition. Apples, pears, plums and grapes are believed to be uninjured. Some plowing and seeding of oats and clover has been done, and in a few localities potatoes and gardens are being planted, but generally the ground is too wet to plow and farm work is confined to repair-EARLY WEAKNESS OVERCOME BY ing fences and preparing for the spring
